

JACK NICKLAUS PRESENTS THE INTERNATIONAL COURSE DISK™

Designed by: Ned Martin, Sculptured Software, Inc.
Producer: Sheldon Safir
Associate Producer: Mark Wallace

Instructions for IBM PC and Tandy

- 1 Use the standard DOS procedure (check your computer manual if you need more info) to make a backup copy of the International Courses before you use it. Label your backup disk International Courses and put your original away for safekeeping.
- 2 Boot up Jack Nicklaus' Greatest 18 Holes of Major Championship Golf as you would normally, then when prompted to insert a course disk, replace the disk in the drive with the International Courses disk. You can now choose to play any of the three courses: Australian, Saint Creek or St. Mellion.
 - If you have the 3.5" version, boot your Greatest 18 disk as you would normally. When the course options appear, replace the disk in the drive with the International Course disk and press the space bar.
- 3 After you choose one of these courses, an overhead view of one of the holes appears on screen. To pass this screen, type the number of the illustration on the new International Course Sheet that is identical to the hole on your screen. Now you're ready to set up a match.

Note: If you've installed the Nicklaus game on your hard drive, just copy the files from the International Course disk into the same sub-directory as the program. Begin the game as usual, and select the course you wish to play.

Instructions for Commodore 64/128

Note: You might want to use any commercially available copying program to make a back-up copy of the disk.

- 1 Boot up Jack Nicklaus' Greatest 18 Holes of Major Championship Golf as you would normally, then when prompted to insert a course disk, replace the disk in the drive with the International Courses disk. Put it in either label side up or down, depending on which course you want to play:

- To play St. Mellion, put the disk in label side down and press the fire button. The course will load automatically.
- 2 After you choose one of these courses, an overhead view of one of the holes appears on screen. To pass this screen, type the number of the illustration on the new International Course Sheet that is identical to the hole on your screen. Now you're ready to set up a match.

Instructions for Apple IIGS

- 1 Use the standard PRODOS procedure (check your computer manual if you need more info) to make a backup copy of the International Courses before you use it. Label your backup disk International Courses and put your original away for safekeeping.
- 2 Boot up Jack Nicklaus' Greatest 18 Holes of Major Championship Golf as you would normally, then when prompted to insert a course disk, replace the disk in the drive with the International Courses disk. You can now choose to play any of the three courses: Australian, Saint Creek or St. Mellion.
- 3 After you choose one of these courses, an overhead view of one of the holes appears on screen. To pass this screen, type the number of the illustration on the new International Course Sheet that is identical to the hole on your screen. Now you're ready to set up a match.

Instructions for Amiga 500, 1000, 2000

- 1 Use the standard Workbench procedure (check your computer manual if you need more info) to make a backup copy of the International Courses before you use it. Label your backup disk International Courses and put your original away for safekeeping.
- 2 Boot up Jack Nicklaus' Greatest 18 Holes of Major Championship Golf as you would normally, then when prompted to insert a course disk, replace the disk in the drive with the International Course disk. You can now choose to play any of the three courses: Australian, Saint Creek or St. Mellion.
- 3 After you choose one of these courses, an overhead view of one of the holes appears on screen. To pass this screen, type the number of the illustration on the new International Course Sheet that is identical to the hole on your screen. Now you're ready to set up a match.