

SEQUENTIAL SYSTEMS

December 27, 1993

Dear Valued Customer:

Thank you for purchasing Sequential Systems' discQUEST CD-ROM retrieval software for your Apple IIGS computer. We are certain that you will find discQUEST to be a valuable addition to your Apple IIGS software collection.

As you probably know, discQUEST is a newly released software product and you are among the first to receive a working copy. We at Sequential Systems have made every effort to ensure that this version of discQUEST is free from "bugs" and that the system is adequately documented. If you experience problems with discQUEST, or if you think that you have discovered a "bug", please call our Technical Help line at 1-800-999-1717.

Over the coming six to twelve months Sequential Systems will be making significant improvements and additions to the discQUEST system in order to support more of the rapidly growing library of CD-ROMs currently available for MAC and MS-DOS. As one of the first to purchase and register your copy of discQUEST, you are entitled to receive, free of charge through May 1994, all upgrades to the discQUEST software and documentation. SO REGISTER YOUR COPY TODAY!

Thanks again, and enjoy the new world of multimedia CD-ROM!

Sincerely,

J. A. Yandrofski
President
